Every community has a cause

As a Medina County Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) volunteer, you could be the effect that builds a stronger, healthier and well-prepared community.

Like you, many MRC members are nurses, doctors, non-medical personnel or retirees who believe in keeping Medina County healthy, prepared, and quick to recover. They share your commitment to helping others and are making a difference by:

- Providing help for public health and emergency response.
- Participating in mass vaccinations and community disaster drills.
- Promoting disease prevention and control.
- Assisting the public health department in a variety of ways.
